

A new project has been completed: my second chipamp. A LM3886 based chipamp with balanced inputs. Measurement results are very good, actually better than I expected from the datasheet with THD+N=0.005%